Instructions

Objective: Individually create a detailed design treatment for an original board game, covering the concept, gameplay mechanics, visual style, target audience, and inclusivity features. This foundational work will lead to further development phases.

1. Work on the below tasks (recommended to do in the order provided). 2. After you have the core concepts/sketches seek external feedback from 3 different people, preferably people from your target audience
2. Once all items are filled out, ensure this worksheet is saved and explore the PDF
3. Upload the PDF to a branch called DesignTreatment on GitHub
4. Create a pull request to main, and complete the merge
5. Upload the same PDF to Canvas

Section #1: (2 pts.) Crafting The Game Treatment

Progress: 100%

⇒ Task #1 (0.29 pts.) - Possible Title(s) of the Game

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Propose fitting title(s) reflecting the game's essence
- Explanation of title(s) choices

Your Response:

The Set Game

- The game revolves around collecting matching sets to score "points".
- Simple and clean name (accessible)
- Gives the idea that it involves set mechanics to win/play

Bluff and Boost

- Kind of a literal game name. The aim of my game is to bluff or boost your way to a win.
- When you "Bluff" you essentially block and when u "Boost" you can double your points.
- Energetic take on a game
- More action type name

Hoarder's Gambit

- Sounds like a legit game name / creative enough for one at least
- Tells the theme of the game without even playing yet
- Sounds more thematic/dramatic

Task #2 (0.29 pts.) - Game Setting

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Thoroughly describe the setting

Your Response:

Taking place between the Late Renaissance and Early Industrial Era in a fictional world; beneath a sprawling metropolis city, lies a hidden underground district. In this district there is a black market bazaar called The Gilded Veil where resources are bought, stolen, and hoarded. Powerful traders come here to participate in this in hopes of coming out with huge amounts of Gold, magic, relics, etc.

Nobody here is just a "merchant" though. They are collectors. Hoarders. Opportunists.

⇒ Task #3 (0.29 pts.) - Game Characters

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Thoroughly describe the characters

Your Response:

4 Characters

- There are 4 characters (purely artistic, no advantage choosing one over the other)

Marcellus Veyne

- Calm, calculating, meticulous. Never acts rashly and is always analyzing what others are doing before making a move.

Lyra Sable

- Bold, charming, unpredictable. Thrives on stealing and creating chaos. Loves taking risks for high rewards

Thaddeus Grimble

- Greedy, obsessive, slightly paranoid.

Veyra Adeline

- Smooth, persuasive, mysterious. Can be somewhat misdirecting

⇒ Task #4 (0.29 pts.) - Game Theme

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Thoroughly describe the theme

Your Response:

The main theme of Hoarder's Gambit is about greed. Players compete to obtain a lot of wealth, hoard resources, and seize opportunities. In my game you will be able to steal from rivals, bluff to protect your own gains, and even try sabotaging others who are trying to gain more.

⇒ Task #5 (0.29 pts.) - Game Story

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Thoroughly describe the story

Your Response:

Beneath the bustling streets of a sprawling city there is the Black Market Bazaar also called The Hidden Veil. A hidden world where fortune favors the bold and wealth is won by those who are cunning not by strength. Merchants, collectors, and opportunists from across the city gather here to trade gold, food, stone, magic, and rare enchanted artifacts. Each player is a merchant seeking to amass the largest hoard they can. Some hoard obsessively, piling up wealth and becoming prime targets. Others steal opportunistically, using charm to disrupt rivals. In this secret world, every decision carries risk. A greedy hand can secure a fortune or bring ruin.

⇒ Task #6 (0.29 pts.) - Objectives and Conflicts

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Describe the goals and challenges within the game

Your Response:

Goals

- Collect matching sets of cars to get points
- Use strategy to get collect cards
- Win the game by getting 10 points (subject to change)

Conflicts

- Other players can steal your loot
- Opponents can block your movements
- Accumulating too much can make you a target for other players

⇒ Task #7 (0.29 pts.) - Game Mechanics

Progress: 100%

Details:

- List each mechanic with supporting details to clearly portray the mechanic

Your Response:

Game Components

- Cards (40 total)
 - Resource (20) : Gold(4), Stone(4), Food(4), Magic(4), Enchants(4)
 - Action (10) : Steal(3), block(2), swap(2), double points(2), sabotoge(1)

Steal : Take 1 random card from another player's hand (must declare target)

Block : Cancel a single action against you (Can be played actively or proactively)

Swap : Exchange 1 card with another player (Forced by card)

Double Points : Double points for a set scored this turn (Can be combined with a turn in)

Sabotage : Target player discards 2 cards of their choice (Makes opponent vulnerable)

Bluff mechanic: If a player claims they have a block card when being attacked, the attacker can call the bluff.

- If the player does have a block, the attacker loses 1 card
- If the player does not have a block, the player loses 2 cards
- Wild (10) : Can substitute for any resource when forming sets

- Die : 6 sided die
- Player Pieces : 4
- Character cards : (Optional)

Objective

- Reach 10 points
- Turn in sets of resources
 - 3 resources : 2 points

- 4 resources : 4 points
- Wild cards can substitute for any resource in a set

Section #2: (1 pt.) Target Audience Analysis

Progress: 100%

⇒ Task #1 (1 pt.) - Identify and analyze the game's target audience

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Clearly identify the target audience
- Include analysis of demographics, interests, and gaming habits
- Justification of appeal to target audience

Your Response:

Target Audience

Age

- Considering this is a board game, it would ideally be made for people on the younger side. However, because it involves bluffing, reading opponents, and strategy, it is more for teens so 12+
- The setting/story and competitive aspect of the game makes it also suitable for adults as well.

Player Type/Interest

- Casual board gamers
- Fans of bluffing
- Strategy lovers

Group Size

- 2-4 players

Section #3: (1 pt.) Accessibility And Inclusivity Strategies

Progress: 100%

⇒ Task #1 (1 pt.) - Outline strategies to make your game accessible and inclusive

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Include considerations for diverse abilities
- Outline inclusivity strategies for a wide audience
- Discuss implementation of noted inclusivity strategies without compromising gameplay

Your Response:

- Using high contrast colors that could bring better attention to the game. For the game cover as well as the pieces of the game.
- Using large readable font
- Clear/clean symbols for each resource card
- Avoid color only differences. Make sure that each symbol is uniquely identified.
- Keep rules relatively simple and consistent.
- Limit the number of cards (for now) to avoid overwhelming players
- Using standard card sizes for people so they're not too small that you have trouble holding them or too big so that they're hard to conceal.
- Bluffing could also be optional

Section #4: (2 pts.) Pitch Preparation

Progress: 100%

⇒ Task #1 (2 pts.) - Pitch

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Summarize concept and theme
- Compellingly highlight target audience and unique selling points
- Emphasize how the game stands out in the current market

Your Response:

Hoarders Gambit is a 2-4 player strategy card game where greed is what drives players to win. Set in a hidden black market bazaar, players collect valuable sets, steal from opponents, and decide whether to cash in or risk losing their loot. Designed for players 12+ the game is easy to learn, quick to play, and full of tension. What makes it stand out is its balance of simplicity and strategy. Combining numerous elements like set collection, player interaction, and risk taking decisions.

Section #5: (2 pts.) Visualizing The Game Concept

Progress: 100%

🖼️ Task #1 (2 pts.) - Sketches/Storyboard

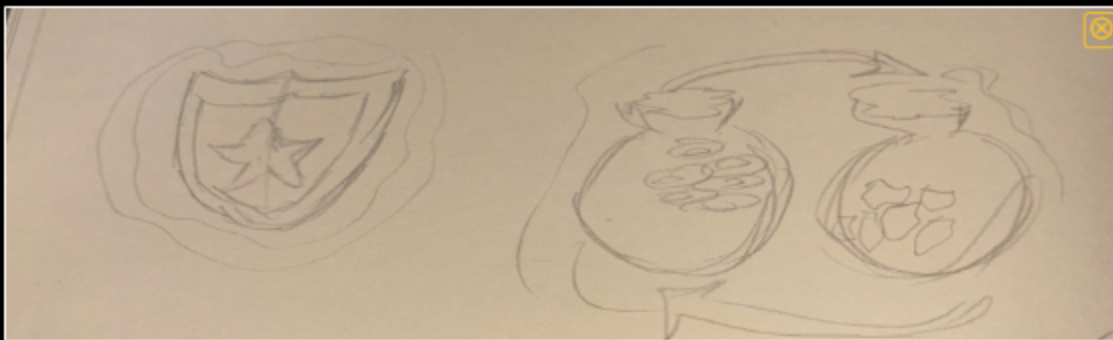

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Provide at least two sketches
- Sketches should accurately represent the game's concept and theme
- Sketches/storyboards should be coherent with game's style and theme

Section #6: (2 pts.) External Feedback

Progress: 100%

⇒ Task #1 (0.67 pts.) - Feedback 1

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Note the person's name and relation to you
- Summarize feedback focusing on concept, mechanics, and style
- Reflect on how the feedback will be used to refine the design

Your Response:

Mrs. Flores; mom.

- Likes the concept of the game. Greed theme and black market make for a unique combination for a board game. Concept is relatively easy to understand with patience and practice. Rules seem simple enough for players.
- Worried that stealing might get frustrating for other players especially if one keeps getting targeted specifically (bullying).
 - Suggests adding another way to protect yourself
- This feedback tells me the concept/setting of the game is strong but I still need

This feedback tells me the concept setting of the game is strong but I can need to work on more balancing features for the game. Maybe implement another form of defense.

⇒ Task #2 (0.67 pts.) - Feedback 2

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Note the person's name and relation to you
- Summarize feedback focusing on concept, mechanics, and style
- Reflect on how the feedback will be used to refine the design

Your Response:

Ben; boyfriend

- Solid concept. Theme of greed is cool (and expected for some reason). Makes the game more competitive. Simple to learn. Style wise the game is cool and could be expanded on to be more in depth with the story.
- Worried that there aren't enough variations in cards and might lead to repetitiveness quickly after a few rounds.
- Using the feedback, I'll probably see about adding more variations in cards so that it doesn't get so repetitive. Unsure though since the game is meant to be quick and not played for long times

⇒ Task #3 (0.67 pts.) - Feedback 3

Progress: 100%

Details:

- Note the person's name and relation to you
- Summarize feedback focusing on concept, mechanics, and style
- Reflect on how the feedback will be used to refine the design

Your Response:

- Really cool idea for the greed and magic themes. Very competitive game considering you can steal others cards. Not super complicated to play. Mechanics sound balanced. Style is unique since you don't see much of that in the market (supposedly)

- Could go with some extra cards that add a small twist/change to the game to keep things exciting and fast paced. It could be repetetive otherwise.
- Using this feedback, its similar to the last one which is to add more variety to the cards or other key things in the game which can keep things from getting boring. I'll have to see about what I could add for the future but overall I think the theme/setting of my game are strong.
